

Chapter 6: How do I use Linux?

Okay, you've installed Linux, you've chosen your GUI, and you've picked up a few basic commands. You're probably feasting for some software now. Linux has an abundance of software out there, mainly available over the net, mainly for a zero fee. This chapter covers how and where to get software.

Table of Contents

- Linux: Let the fun commence!
- The many desktop choices of Linux
- Using the GNOME Desktop
 - The desktop view
 - Your Applications
 - Activities
 - Getting Virtual with desktops
 - Where are my files?
- Setting things up
 - Notifications
 - Online Accounts
 - Network
 - Backups
- Apps: E-mail, Web Browsers, Chat, Audio and more
 - Browsing the web
 - E-mail and Calendar
 - Music / Radio and Video
 - Image Viewer / Photos
 - Word, Excel, Powerpoint: LibreOffice.
 - The Rest